EVVE

Front End and Mobile Developer Intern

Feb 2020 - Dec 2020 (10 m)

I interned at EVVE as a Mobile and Frontend Developer, where I used React Native for mobile development and basic web development technologies, such as HTML5, CSS3 and JavaScript. I was responsible for the frontend of websites, systems and applications. During this period, I improved my skills in React Native and explored other technologies. I highlight the launch of an application published in the App Store, representing a significant advancement in my career.
